4/8/20 Meeting Notes:

Meeting began at 1:04 pm and adjourned at 2:16 pm

Purpose of the Meeting: The WV Center for Children’s Justice/Handle with Care Program is receiving inquiries about how HWC can connect with children and families during the COVID 19 Crisis. How do we reach children at risk and provide resources when they are not in school? There is great concern for the health and welfare of children stuck in isolated and potential unsafe situations. We are facilitating an in formal ZOOM meetings every other Wednesday to connect professionals around the state and county to brainstorm on innovative ways to connect with children.

Themes that have emerged:

1. HWC notices are still vitality important as most of the notices go to essential school staff who have relationships with the children who need to be handled with care and will be able to contact the kids should the need arise.

2. School staff can still have contact with kids through the internet (School iPads, Schoology, and apps)
   *many children do not have access to the internet

3. Food distribution is a good and sometimes only point of contact to reach kids and families.

4. We need to promote the 211 resource

Andrea recapped:

- Gabe, our part time contractual employee in charge of social media has started the campaign on HWC social media to remind LE to continue to send the notices. We will be asking LE and other first responders to make short videos that we can post.
- Robert Peters reported that 911 still works on discarded cell phones.
- The resources that were sent in after the last call are listed at the bottom of these notes.

Ideas/Information/Concerns:

Jenny Lancaster with Terrzetto Creative

- Charleston Police Department Chief Hunt provided a video asking law enforcement to keep the HWC notices coming. Terrzetto has created a template for the videos. She is finishing up the editing and will be sending out a draft today. Chief Schwertfeger of the Wheeling Police Department and Trooper Michelle Shaffer of the WV State Police are going to submit videos as well.
Keith Thomas with Student support services in Cabell County:
- They have 36 food distribution sites and are providing food for over 10k students daily.
- They are also doing home visits.
- Their goal is to contact every child weekly.
- There are a lot of areas and families without Wi-Fi so they have parked 10 buses with Wi-Fi in key areas so families can drive to that location and have access Wi-Fi. The Wi-Fi is available from 9am to 4pm.
- They have created online forms for children to use should they need some assistance.
- They have published school counselor’s cell phones so children can reach their counselor should the need arise.
- They have also provided city mission with desktop computers for children that are at homeless shelters.
- They are using videos for telehealth and therapy.

Brittney Masters is with Community in Schools in Greenbrier County.
- They have created an emergency needs assessment for their students.
- They are contacting them weekly, if not more.
- They are looking for other ways to reach out as some don’t answer phones or call back.

Rebecah Carson is with WV Centralized Intake:
- She stated that their call volume is still significantly down. They are receiving between 100 – 125 calls daily. This includes Adult Protective Services calls.
- On our last call we talked about children self-reporting. After the call, she sent out a memo to her staff on how to expedite calls when the reporter is the child.
- She stated that CPS is still under the same mandates as before. Field workers are still in the field but are doing as much as they can through virtual media.

Dr. Kiti Freier Randell, Pediatric Neurodevelopmental Psychologist from Southern California:
- They have an increase in reports to CPS and are having trouble finding foster homes because families are afraid the children might have exposure to COVID. She would like to see foster children receive prioritized testing.
  - Rebecah Carson also mentioned that there are concerns about runaways being exposed and then returning to placement.

Robert Peters attorney with the Zero Abuse Project
- The Zero Abuse Project and Liberia, Inc are creating personal safety videos for kids. They have completed filming the videos and they are almost ready to send out. There are four videos:
  1. Wellness and Body Safety for Middle and High School Students
  2. Online Safety for Middle and High School Students
  3. Wellness and Body Safety for Elementary Students
  4. Online Safety for Elementary Students
- Anyone can post and share these videos. Link to the videos bit.ly/2Ka7a20.
Kevin Barney is a PRO Officer in Morgan County, WV:
- In Morgan County the school counselors are creating a list of children that they have not been able to reach, and the PRO officers are making home visits to check on them.

Chad Napier, Director WV HIDTA (High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area):
- There has been an uptick in overdoses in the last 5-6 days.

Barry Ball is with the WV Methodist Church:
- They are adding a list of local resources to their food distribution boxes.

Courtney Whitehead, Lead School Counselor in Monongalia County:
- The counselors are all meeting every Wednesday
- The PROs are still working with the schools, but the SRO are back with the Sheriff’s Department

Audra Hamrick with the WVU School of Public Health:
- We need to be promoting the national suicide hotline.

Janet Allio, School Nurse Kanawha County:
- They are working with counselors and social workers to contact students to get iPads out to them.
- She is also returning medications to the kids. When school ended lots of students left without their medications.

Recommendations from April 8 Meeting:
1. Weekly check ins with all children from the school.
2. School nurses to check in with kids on medications and/or have chronic conditions.
3. Prioritized COVID testing for children needing placement and the runners coming back into care.

The next meeting will be at 3:00 pm on Wednesday, April 22nd.
